ENDING CHILDHOOD OBESITY IN THE NORDIC COUNTRIES

Chairs: Research Professor TIINA LAATIKAINEN, National Institute for Health and Welfare, Finland and Research Professor SUVI VIRTANEN, National Institute for Health and Welfare, Finland

Secretaries: Development Manager PÄIVI MÄKI, National Institute for Health and Welfare, Finland and Specialist JOHANNA KUJALA, Finnish National Board of Education

The prevalence of childhood and adolescent obesity is on the rise around the world, including the Nordic countries. Addressing childhood obesity requires a whole-of-society approach as well as consideration of the environmental context and critical time periods in the life-course. This workshop analyses childhood obesity prevention from various angles; the role of the environment, community, early prevention, the various research actors as well as promotion of children's health and obesity prevention.

Aims

- To emphasise children's health promotion and obesity prevention in the Nordic countries, taking account of early prevention, the role of different actors and the importance of the living environment and community.
- To advance Nordic cooperation and networking in promoting children's health and preventing obesity.
- To disseminate and embed good practices and policies.

ONE WORLD, ONE HEALTH AND ANTIMICROBIAL RESISTANCE

Antibiotics are used both in medicine and veterinary medicine as well as in animal production. The overuse of antibiotics is the main cause for the development of resistant bacterial strains. Prudent use of antibiotics is the key factor in controlling the development of resistance. This workshop focuses on how to prevent the expansion of antibiotic resistant bacteria and the spreading of these bacteria in a truly global society with mobile humans and animals across all continents.

Aims

- To discuss how we can maintain the efficiency of antibiotics.

STANDARDISATION, COLLECTION AND BENCHMARKING OF NORDIC PRESHOSPITAL EMERGENCY MEDICAL SERVICES (EMS) DATA

Chairs: Senior Advisor LASSE ILKKA, Ministry of Social Affairs and Health, Finland and Head of Department STEINAR OLSEN, Directorate of Health, Norway

Secretary: Senior Advisor JANNE KJOELLES DAL, Directorate of Health, Norway

Nordic countries share similar challenges and demands regarding future Emergency Medical Services (EMS) and the need for EMS is on the increase. However, until recently Nordic data has only to a limited extent been comparable. To tackle this challenge, Nordic collaboration on standardisation, data collection and benchmarking in the EMS was established in 2013. The work has so far resulted in agreeing on a proposal for common definitions of the timeline, relevant measuring points and key statistics for EMS for the Nordic countries, concentrating on three time critical patient groups: cardiac arrest, acute myocardial infarction, and stroke. The aim is to have a Memorandum of Understanding between the Nordic countries in the near future.

Aims

- To give an update of Nordic collaboration on standardization, data collection and benchmarking in the Emergency Medical Services (EMS).
