ACADEMIC DIRECTOR

Julia Lajus
Associate Professor,
Head of the Laboratory for Environmental and Technological History

RESEARCH AND PROJECTS

Research Seminar is running for the whole period of study. Students write academic or project-based research MA Thesis in history under supervision of world class professionals: Nikolai Ssorin-Chaikov (formerly Cambridge U), Nathan Marcus (PhD New York U), Alexander Semyonov (PhD Central European U), Marina Loskutova (PhD Central European U), Alexandra Bekasova (formerly European U at St. Petersburg), Tatiana Borisova (PhD U of Turku).

The motivated students will be granted an opportunity to integrate their research into collective projects of the Center for Historical Research and Laboratory for Environmental and Technological History.

INTERNSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

The programme is centred in St. Petersburg, Russia, a global heritage city, and its vicinities which are homes to a wide range of museums, cultural, natural, and archaeological heritage sites that provide unique opportunities for practical training. Internship placements include the Peterhof State Museum-Reserve, the State Museum for the History of St. Petersburg in Peter and Paul Fortress and other museums, archaeological institutions, tour companies and media outlets. During the internships, students prepare materials and work on designs for exhibitions, make original excursions and audio-guides, improve historical context of websites and publications.

SEMESTER ABROAD

Exchange programs provide students with the chance to spend one semester at a partner university abroad. These partners include the University of Jyväskylä (Finland), Ludwig Maximilian University of Munich (Germany), and many others. Students are eligible to participate in exchanges with any HSE partner institution. Many sponsor programmes exist, such as Erasmus+(Europe-wide), FIRST (Finland) or DAAD (Germany).

CAREER PROSPECTIVE

Specialization in Applied and Interdisciplinary History will allow graduates to enter the workforce or continue an academic path with a well-grounded education based on both research and practical experience; a dual advantage on the international job market. Professional careers include a wide range of professions where skills in applied history are particularly useful, such as museums, archives, libraries, media outlets, non-profit organizations, public institutions, professional scientific institutions and environmental services connected with heritage.

Graduates of the programme are fully prepared for academic careers and are accepted to doctoral programs in Russia and abroad.
